

Candy

Eva McEneaney

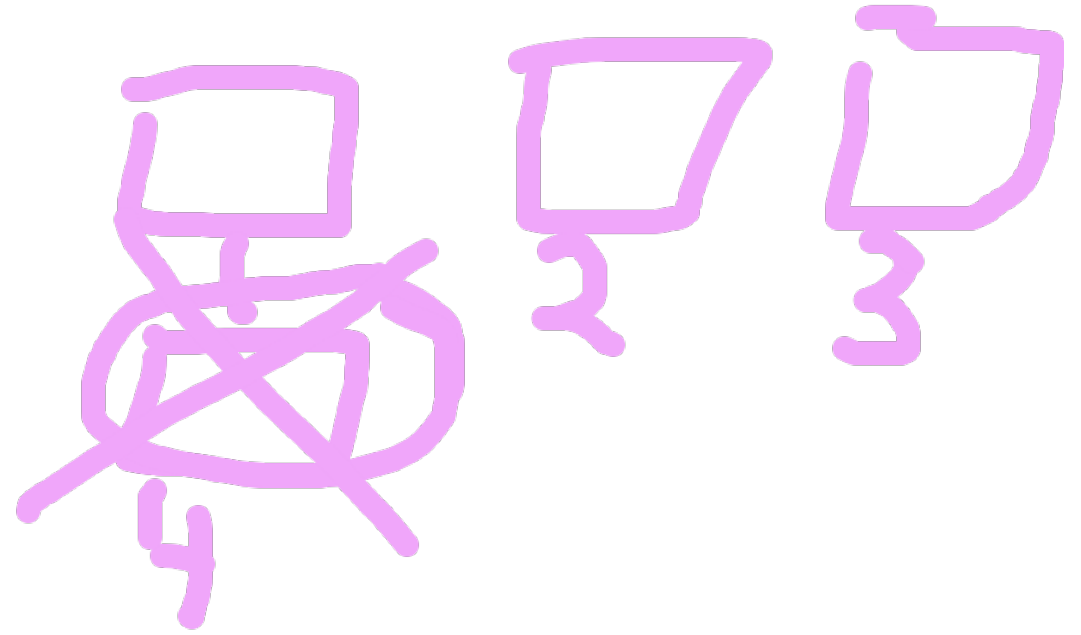

Last Thursday, on Halloween, I had SO much candy to give out!!!!!! So much candy that my brother needed to help me. My brother's name is Charlie.

It was a lot of candy to give out!
Here is some of the candy I remember that we gave out:
Kit-Kats, Twix,
Milkyways, and Sweettarts.

A hand-drawn logo for Milky Ways. The words "Milky Ways!" are written in a dark grey, cursive font. The text is set against a dark blue rectangular background that has a slightly textured, hand-painted appearance.A hand-drawn logo for Kitkat. The word "Kitkat" is written in a black, cursive font. The text is set against a red rectangular background that has a textured, hand-painted appearance. To the right of the word is a small, brown, cylindrical shape representing a Kitkat wafer.A hand-drawn logo for Twix. The word "Twix!" is written in a black, cursive font. The text is set against a red rectangular background that has a textured, hand-painted appearance. The background has some vertical lines, suggesting a wrapper or a box.

We divided all the candy into 8 containers. The people were only allowed to take 1 piece of candy from 6 of the containers. But we were at someone else's Halloween party.
